

OUR FASHION LETTER.

Wash Silk Waists Are Very Comfortable and Modish.

WEAR A FINE, CLEAR VEIL.

Where Shall the Handkerchief Be Carried?—Linen Suits That Have Coat and Skirt of Contrasting Colors—Pongee Is Universally Popular.

Wash silk waists made up in the plainest styles are modish and the most comfortable of all the summer waists. With the tailored shirt waist is worn a starched embroidered turnover collar. With these collars are worn four-in-hand ties of linen or silk. The tie is arranged in a small knot high up in the collar just where it turns over, and the lower edges are caught together with a fancy bar pin.

The summer girl is in a quandary as to what is to become of her handkerchief. Most of her blouses open down the back, so the mouchoir has no chance of being hidden in front of the bodice, and the fashionable short sleeves are no use as a hiding place.

A white chip sailor hat with a wide folded band and bow of green silk at the side is the smart thing to wear with an all white gown.

Green, old pink and burnt orange wide silk neckties are worn by young girls with shirt waists.

This little shirt waist dress is of pink gingham. The skirt is laid in unstuffed plaits. The collar and cuffs are of white pique.

AN OUTING HAT.

Veils are either very fine and clear or else more of the motorizing order. There are here and there people who can put on the Victorian lace veil with a happy result, but it is only the exclusive few, and unless the whole costume is thought out in accordance the effect is disastrous.

The latest freak of milliners is to blend tulle of the same color as the hair at the back of the hat, so that one hardly knows which is catpepigne and which is hair. The result is illusive and beautiful where the idea is well carried out.

The coat which differs in color from the linen skirt is an innovation decidedly smart. An excellent effect is gained by a holland skirt and red linen coat faced with holland, and a white linen skirt worn with a bright green coat faced with white is also pretty. The panama hat, which should crown this, will look well either trimmed with black and white striped ribbon or black glaze.

The fashionable material in bathing costumes this year is alpaca in black, navy and pale blue. They are copied from the latest French designs, the tunic and plaited skirt being made in one piece and trimmed with white silk braid, their chief claim to popularity lying in their silklike appearance and supple smoothness to water. With a navy tunic costume a tartan cap tied with a broad red ribbon is proper, as is also the case with black, but the correct finish to a pale blue costume can only be attained by wearing a cap of the same shade, tied with bows of white.

The hat seen in the illustration is a pretty outing affair of manilla straw. It is trimmed with white liberty sash and soft white wings.

FOR THE FAIR.

Beautiful cut amethyst beads for the neck and turquoise matrix ones are just now being worn. A novel necklace of diamonds, consisting of a small diamond around the neck and

In front five quite plain silver disks set with large green stones and ending with three pendants of silver and green stones, is also being received with much favor.

Exposure to sunlight has a curious effect on some gems, and garnets lose much of their color in the course of time. If they are worn continually, Toppazes, on the contrary, become a shade darker, but part with a great deal of their pristine brilliancy after they have been exposed to a bright light for any length of time.

Some time ago fashion decreed that the finger that was adorned with a ruby should not have its beauty further enhanced by a ring of diamonds, that turquoise should not mingle with emeralds, and so on. Now, however, there is a new law, and the hand that carries one pearl ring must wear no other rings than those of pearls.

According to the robe that is worn, the hands show a blaze of diamonds, a mass of rich red rubies or soft toned pearls, all quite unrelieved and showing as little as possible of their gold or silver setting.

As a rival to the huge hatpins of amber which have accompanied the winter millinery comes the pink quartz in delightful tones. Large balls, long drops and even simple flowers are cut out of the quartz to serve as hatpins, making effective touches of light coloring among the trimmings of spring toques and hats.

Low shoes when new often blister the heels by slipping just a little as the wearer walks. To prevent this it is well to rub the inside of the shoe at the heel with soap before putting it on.

The necklace in the cut is a charming design carried out in amethyst and dull silver.

FOR OUTDOOR WEAR.

Just at present the material most in demand is pongee in all its different qualities and colorings. House dresses, handsome reception gowns, coat and skirt costumes, traveling dresses—it does not seem to matter for what purpose, so varied are the summer models in pongee and rajah cloth.

One girl who motors a great deal has costumes to match all through. For example, one is all lavender or mauve. Her long, loose storm coat is of mauve satin with big smoke pearl buttons. Her veil is an enormous mass of lavender chiffon, yards and yards of it, ar ranged upon a small automobile tire of mauve straw. Her suede gloves are mauve and her linen gaiters are the same color. Then she has gray, tan, rose, brown and white costumes.

Plaid belts in leather and silk are smart to wear with white linen shirt waist suits, and plaid stockings are rumored to be equally stunning worn with the dress.

There is a new shade which goes by the name of biscuit, but it must certainly refer to them in their uncoked state if the name is to be applicable. The prettier biscuit color is the palest shade of tan—just one remove from cream.

For a light weight traveling suit rajah is excellent. It does not show dust readily, and it will stand a tremendous amount of wear. There are a few models made up with the box revers semi-fitted coat, but the majority of designs have the Eton or bolero trimmed with ruchings of taffeta or lace.

The attractive suit in the cut is in chestnut brown—rajah silk with vest and strappings of cloth a shade darker. The buttons are small enameled affairs, and the tie is of a lovely burnish copper color.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Skiping.

Hat of blue and hair of brown! One foot up and one foot down! In the sunshine gayly skipping! Watching, counting, never tripping! Like a sunbeam dancing away, Happy maiden, skip away! Laugh at sorrow, homeless rover, If he meets you, skip him over! Up with this foot, up with that! Happy heart go pitapat! One foot up and one foot down, Hat of blue and hair of brown; Over Care and over Sorrow Skip today and skip tomorrow!

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

Guards and Robbers Is a Jolly Game to Play in the House.

This is a game that may be played with three or more children. Choose a room that has two or more doors, and on the sill of each door place some small unbreakable object, like a bean bag or cushion. One child stays in the room and guards the bean bags, while the others try to get them. Of course the robbers cannot tell which door the guard is standing near, so when they come quietly up to steal the bean bags they may get caught instead. If the guard catches a child that child must stay a prisoner in the room. The guard can run out of the room to chase one of the robbers if she wishes to, but she is apt in that case to have some of the bean bags stolen from the other doors. When only one bean bag is left the game is almost over, for in that case the guard chases the remaining robber or robbers all over the house till she catches them. Of course they still try to get the last bean bag, but it is not so easy. The guard wins if she catches all the robbers, and the robbers win if they capture all the bean bags.

Trades For Boys.

Few boys take to tasks that require thought and persistent efforts. Yet skilled work is the only employment in demand.

Hodcarriers and common laborers glut the markets everywhere. The tradesmen and artisans are the ones that get the easiest jobs and the most money. The others are always hunting work.

Should they accidentally stumble upon a job they cannot hold it. A superficial knowledge will not do. It must be thorough.

Boys, learn a trade while young. After you are twenty years old few will be found who will take the time and trouble to teach you one. When you are that old you will want a man's pay. If you don't know anything you don't get it. Know-nothings work at odd jobs and are paid the lowest scale.—Gem.

Walking Backward.

Boys and girls sometimes suffer from nervous headache, and they are advised to try a simple remedy. It is not a drug, but is so very simple and harmless that it may be tried by the most delicate person. It is merely the act of walking backward. An instructor in physical culture claims that it is an infallible remedy. You should walk very slowly, letting the ball of the foot touch the floor first, and then the heel. A few minutes' walking generally effects a complete cure, according to the instructor. He also claims that walking backward for a little while every day is the best way to learn to walk forward easily and gracefully. Suppose you try it. It certainly cannot do you any harm.

How Bees Hum.

Did you know that bees hum from under their wings? It is not the stir of those beautiful white wings we hear. It is the drawing in and out of the air tubes in the bee's quick flight. The faster the bee flies the louder the humming is. Did you know that insects feel? They have nerves all over them, through their wings and out to the end of every feather.

How About Your Eyes?

Seven out of ten people have stronger sight in one eye than the other.

A man who makes a great hit with himself is an easy mark.

Some men are wise enough to be foolish occasionally.

Not Addition.

An editor was talking about the late Lewis Carroll, author of "Alice in Wonderland," "The Hunting of the Hawk" and many other delectable tales.

"Lewis Carroll," he said, "was a mathematician, but his mind was not so narrow and crochety as the minds of mathematicians usually are."

"I once heard him say that the normal mathematician disliked poetry. He got into an argument about poetry with an instructor in trigonometry on a certain occasion, and, his argument failing, he gave the instructor Tennyson's 'Charge of the Light Brigade' to read."

"There, read that," he said, "and if you don't find it full of beauty I'll give in."

"The instructor sneered, looked at the page and began to read: 'Half a league, half a league, half a league'—"

"Then he threw down the book. 'If the fool means a league and a half,' he snorted, 'why the deuce can't he say so?'"

ORINO Laxative Fruit Syrup

Pleasant to take and does not gripe or nauseate

Cures Chronic Constipation, Stomach and Liver Trouble

Stimulation Without Irritation.

ORINO Laxative Fruit Syrup is a new laxative syrup combined with the delicious flavor of fruits, and is very pleasant to take. It will not gripe or sicken. It is much more pleasant and effective than Pills, Tablets and Saline Waters, as it does not derange the Stomach, or irritate the Kidneys, Liver or Bowels.

Constipation.

ORINO Laxative Fruit Syrup will positively cure chronic constipation as it restores the natural action of the intestinal tract. Ordinary cathartics may give temporary relief but the stomach is upset and the bowels are irritated without any permanent benefit having been derived.

Why ORINO is different.

ORINO Laxative Fruit Syrup is the only preparation that really acts upon all of the digestive organs. Other preparations act upon the lower bowel only and do not touch the Liver. It can very readily be seen that a preparation that does not act upon all of the digestive organs can not cure Chronic Constipation, Torpid Liver, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, etc.

For Biliousness and Sick Headache.

Take ORINO Laxative Fruit Syrup. It sweetens the stomach, aids digestion and acts as a gentle stimulant on the liver and bowels without irritating these organs.

Clears the Complexion.

ORINO Laxative Fruit Syrup stimulates the liver and thoroughly cleanses the system and clears the
